Commitment – A player is only committed once they have registered with a team by signing a VM Individual Registration Form during Early Signing (17/18U) or the Tryout Period (13U-18U). Once signed an athlete remains committed for the duration of the age class season ending May 31 and can no longer be recruited.

Tryout Period – the period of time during which clubs may begin to host tryouts for available roster spots and solicit commitments within approved dates.

Open Gyms – August 24 – 30 Clubs may offer open gyms for identification purposes to any age class athletes aspiring to play at the 17U or 18U level.

Best Practices

Families are strongly encouraged to explore multiple opportunities to determine the best fit for their athlete. Participating in sanctioned programs such as camps, open gyms and tryouts, or interacting with coaches through approved recruitment windows, are all acceptable means of achieving this outcome.

Clubs and athletes are not obligated to use the Early Signing Period and may continue to use the tryout period in December to explore all options.

Clubs are expected that all programming and communication be athlete-centric and avoid creating undue stress for families. Adhering to the 'spirit of the rules' contributes to a healthy sport community overall. VM recommends clubs and athletes follow a Yearly Training Plan informed by Long-Term Development principles that allows for multi-sport participation and periods of rest from volume, intensity, and competitive pursuits.

A guiding principle is that athletes are free to make informed decisions and a commitment prior to either the Early Signing or Tryout Periods is NOT binding. Any imposed expectations or deadlines for a commitment outside of these approved periods of time is deemed unacceptable and subject to disciplinary action.
